Re: David Racer, Co-author of "Your Health Matters"

In April 2007, it was our pleasure to host Dave as speaker at our Health Forum. His book about the United States healthcare system has an important message for all Americans. Dave and his co-author, Gregory Dattilo, a health insurance broker, spent fourteen months compiling information, relating the facts and myths in an easy to understand format.

The book offers valuable straight talk about the current state of our nation's healthcare and what can be done to change it. Dave is a dynamic and motivating speaker. All who attended our sessions, including agents, insurance company employees, physicians, and caring citizens left with a greater understanding of our healthcare system and what we need to do to protect it.

If you are looking for something fresh and new to offer your members, clients, peers, and friends, we encourage you to contact Dave and schedule him as your speaker.
